

JayMay, Demon Love

The overcoat I wear is invisible, you see
The darkest cloud that covers and hovers up above the tree
It's the coldest breeze that blows eternally
And I've got to get this sinkin' boat out to sea
I've got to get your demon love out of me
The ocean's miles away, but I can feel her every move
Callin' me each day in closer with a state of mind to soothe
And remindin' me while shes so blue
That I've got to get this sinkin' boat out to sea
I've got to get your demon love out of me
Over and over these thoughts roll through my head
If I was bolder I'd put them all to bed
The coldest breeze that blows eternally
And I've got to get this sinkin' boat out to sea
I've got to get your demon love out of me
I've got to get this sinkin' boat out to sea
I've got to get your demon love out of me