

JayMay, So you go away

So you go away
You go your way and then I will go mine
I know where the snow falls
And I know where the sun shines
Sippin' my tea in the mornin' time
Where I wonder 'bout every possibility
(I'm on my knees!)
Today it looks like the sky may turn over
(Yeah, it may)
Today it looks like the crowd might laugh too loud
Time's runnin' out
I gotta wait until the whole thing blows over
And it's got to
Now they say I'm crazy
They said it so sincerely so
I believed it was true
But if I'm so crazy
The insanest part is what it makes you
You and your suitcase and your lover, the nude cook
And the window in the kitchen
I think the maid might wanna look
Today it looks like the sky may turn over
(Yeah, it may)
Today it looks like the crowd might laugh too loud
Time's runnin' out
I gotta wait until the whole thing blows over
And it's got to
Somewhere in the meadow
Somewhere in the meadow where we dream
We take our little bath and then
We think about the things in the stream
Where we go half crazy until we figure out what it all means
Then we laugh
We laugh 'cause we don't have to scream anymore
Today it looks like the sky may turn over
(Yeah, it may)
Today it looks like the crowd might laugh too loud
Time's runnin' out
I gotta wait until the whole thing blows over
And it's got to
