

Jeff Edwards, Don't Wish It Away

Don't wish it away, don't wish it away.
Don't wish it away, don't wish it away.

You told yourself a million times.
That you never got it right,
And all the wrong things happen
At the wrong time.
You feel the victim in the middle
Burning ears and eyes.
And that you're paying for someone else's lies.

Sometimes you hope that you can sleep.
The months, the weeks, the days.
So you could wake up
When everything's ok.
But think before you close your eyes.
Every second that you see.
Is a second of your life.

Don't wish it away, don't wish it away.
Don't wish it away, don't wish it away.

You're already losing
A third of your days
Filled with senseless indications
And imaginary haze
Your emotional empires
Fall and rise again.
You feel the warmth of the sun,
And get soaked by the rain.
Sometimes there's things that surprise you.
Sometimes that make you sigh.
Sometimes you have everything.
Sometimes you just get by.
You go low, you get high.
You laugh, you cry,
Every second that you see
Is a second of you life

Don't wish it away, don't wish it away.
Don't wish it away, don't wish it away.
Don't wish it away, don't wish it away.
Don't wish it away, don't wish your life away.

Don't wish it away, don't wish it away.
Don't wish it away, don't wish your life away.
