

Jens Lekman, And I Remember Every Kiss

There will be no kisses tonight
There will be no holding hands tonight
Cause what is now wasn't there before and should not be

I know I've broken some hearts, I understand
Some firecrackers blow up in your hand
And while fucked up, I have always tried to be true

But I would never kiss anyone
Who doesn't burn me like the sun
And I'll remember every kiss
Like my first kiss
Like my first kiss

And I think back on that night, it was lovely,
Wide awake in your daddy's 2:40
And I would like to keep that memory of that kiss
As it is

Things get more complicated when you're older
Before you know it you are somebody's soldier
You get a gun and you name it after a girlfriend.

But I swear I'll never kiss anyone
Who doesn't burn me like the sun
And I will cherish every kiss
Like my first kiss
Like my first kiss

Like my first kiss
Like my first kiss
