

Jens Lekman, Past, Present, And Future

(The Past)

The Past - well let me tell you about the past
The Past is filled with broken joys, silent toys(?)
laughing girls and teasing boys
Was I ever in love?

I called it love

I mean - it felt like love

There were moments...

well, there were moments...

(The Present)

Go out with you?

Okay.

Do I like to dance?

Of course.

Take a walk along the beach tonight?

I'd love to -

But Don't try to touch me

Don't try to touch me

cause that will never happen again

Shall we dance?

(Instrumental)

(The Future)

Tomorrow - well... Tomorrow is a long way off

Maybe someday I'll hold somebody's hand

Maybe somewhere someone will understand

You know - I used to sing:

a tisket, a tasket, a green and yellow basket

I'm all packed up and I'm ready to fall in love

but at the moment it's doesn't look good

At the moment I don't think I'll ever fall in love again

I don't think I'll ever fall in love again
