

Jerk, Disintegration

Disintegrating

In line and waiting for somewhere to go
And the dosage today was much too low
I just got there and took my place
And wondered when I lost my face.

I think you're safe, I think I'm safe today

Disintegrating my bones are showing and my mind is broken,
It's chokin' it's somewhere else

Forever needed and no relieving when my body's taking, it's taking me too far

Remembered that the world is blind to simple things

The veins are closed the well is dry I think you're save

I think you're safe from me.

Disintegrating my bones are showing and my mind is broke

It's chokin' it's somewhere else

Forever needing and no relieving

When my body's taking me too far..
