

Jess Klein, Open Me

Run to my house, kick down my door
Let your imagination soar
Throw all the clothes down on the floor
I just hear more, more, more, more

Open each book,
Each little box
No matter how scared I look
Baby dont stop
Open me, yeah
Open me, yeah

On the first floor
The party went on
But I was glued to my window in the dark
Watching the storm
Then lightning struck white
The Middlesex skies
I stared with newborn babys eyes
I dont know you
You dont know me
But I saw that look
Flash through the trees

Open me, yeah
Open me, yeah
Overcome
Im overcome

Bring all the rain
Down from the clouds
I open my mouth
Say it out loud
Open me, yeah
Open me, yeah
Open me
