

Jess Klein, Song For An Angel

All my life, longing just like everybody else
I'm alright, but sometimes I get lonely by myself

Where are you?
Who are you?
When you gonna come to me?
All that I want to say is
I am here
And I believe

All my friends tell me you don't need no one but you
I may be strong, but somehow I don't think that is true

Where are you?
Who are you?
When you gonna come to me?
All that I want to say is
I am here
And I believe
Angel
Find me

So I step outside, let the snowflakes melt upon my face
My true love's tears
Someday I'll catch them with this much grace
Where are you?
Who are you?
When you gonna come to me?
All that I want to say is
I am here
And I believe
I believe
