

Jessica Andrews, Windows On A Train

It felt like just a moment
The way they never last
Where were you goin that you had to leave so fast

We were supposed to wake up
One day when we were older
Holdin on forever
But we flew past each other

Like windows on a train
The flashing of a frame
I cant hold on but I cant let go
A snapshot in my mind
Of a love thats stuck in time
I saw it slip away
Windows on a train

Im not sure what happened
But here I am alone
Tryin to find a way
To find a reason that youre gone
I dont know if Im shakin
From the rhythm of these wheels
Or if its my heart breakin
And this is how it feels, This is how it feels

Like windows on a train
The flashing of a frame
I cant hold on but I cant let go
A snapshot in my mind
Of a love thats stuck in time
I saw it slip away
Windows on a train

Im on my way to kneel down with the truth
With my black dress on to say goodbye to you

Like windows on a train
The flashing of a frame
I cant hold on but I cant let go
A snapshot in my mind
Of a love thats stuck in time
I saw it slip away
Windows on a train
