

Jessie Daniels, Letting Me Go

I still think of you when the nights are cold when I'm all alone I still feel you here I'm still learning ho

Can't let go of you letting go of me cant let go of you letting me letting me go can't get over you eve

You let me go.

Do you think of me when you stare at the sky? One by one clouds go by like what might have been

Can't let go of you letting go of me can't let go of you letting me letting me go can't get over you eve

Where do you want to go. You're all that I know I'm still holding on.

Can't let go of you letting go of me can't let go of you

Cant let go of you letting go of me. can't let go of you letting me, letting me go. can't get over you e

I cant let go of you letting go of me. Can't let let go of you letting me letting me go cant get over eve
