

Jill Phillips, Falling Into God

I have been falling into God
’ve been blind to where I have trod
Cause I’ve walked in love
Walked in love

I’ve been tricked into thinking it was true
That this love I see is only me and you
Cause if God is love
If God is love

Then I have been falling into God
Yes I have been falling into God

It makes my day to give away my Lord
There’s something right that’s not alive when stored
Cause if God is love
And He is love

Then I have been falling into God
Yes I have been falling into God

What brings the happiness
What makes me dream all day
Its not the humanness that makes me feel that way
When the love is true
There’s something more than we know
Like some residue from two thousand years ago
This love that we have is not made by me
Its not made by you
Its time that we gave some credit where
That credit is due

So I have been falling into God
