Jim Brickman, Til I See You Again

The holy voices speaking, words I can't recall. And I do still believe if I believe in anything at all. All you hear in me and all you hear. I thought I saw you walking down by a street yesterday. I thought I heard your voice though I could not hear just what you say. And I am waiting . And I'm waiting here for you. I'm whispering your name. I am telling to the wind. Your love has brought me here. 'til I see you again. I am opening the door. I will let this moment in. Your love will find me here. 'til I see you again.

And I still can remember as I write down these words. The music in your voice and the silence of the universe. And I am singing.

And now I'm singing here for you. I'm whispering your name. I am telling to the wind. Your love has brought me here. 'til I see you again. I am opening the door. I will let this moment in. Your love will find me here. 'til I see you again.

And I am whispering your name. I am telling to the wind.
Your love can find me here.
'til I see you again.
I am opening the door.
I will let this moment in.
Your love can find me here.
'til I see you again.
