Jim Verraros, Welcome To Hollywood

I brought a vision of dreams, like everyone else here I saw it on tv and thought it was a mirror Cars brigther than skylines, billboards brighter than streetlights Something like a movie screen - not as deep as it seems

Welcome to hollywood Town of fears and dreams You better make an impression Or start packing your things Welcome to hollywood Where nothing is what it seems Welcome to hollywood Welcome to hollywood

Make up and cover up all your insecurities Forget to remember beauty's only skin deep Lights, camera act impressed - you should've left with the rest A little fix, some little tricks, sometimes just to get a kick

Welcome to hollywood Town of fears and dreams You better make an impression Or start packing your things Welcome to hollywood Where nothing is what it seems Welcome to hollywood Welcome to hollywood

It ain't easy, it ain't easy You got to work hard to look good It ain't easy, it ain't easy To be background tonight Yeah, yeah Welcome to hollywood Yeah, yeah Welcome to hollywood Yeah, yeah Welcome to hollywood Yeah, oh...

Welcome to hollywood Town of fears and dreams You better make an impression Or start packing your things Welcome to hollywood Where nothing is what it seems Welcome to hollywood Welcome to hollywood
