

Jimi Hendrix Experience, Wait Until Tomorrow

Well I'm standing here freezing
Inside your golden garden
Got my ladder leaned up against your wall
Tonight's the night we planned to run away together
Come on Dolly Mae there's no time to stall
But now you're telling me
I think we better wait 'til tomorrow
Yeah, yeah
I think we better wait 'til tomorrow
Girl what you talkin' about
I think we better wait 'til tomorrow

Got to make sure it's right
So until tomorrow goodnight
Oh what a drag

Oh Dolly Mae, how can you hang me out this way
On the phone you said you wanted to run off with me today
Now I'm standing here like some
Turned down serenading fool
Hearing strange words stutter from the mixed-up mind of you
And you keep telling me that ah
I think we better wait 'til tomorrow
What are you talkin' about
I think we better wait 'til tomorrow
Ah, I can't wait that long
I think we better wait 'til tomorrow

Got to make sure it's right
So until tomorrow goodnight
See if I can talk to this girl a little bit

Oh Dolly Mae girl you must be insane
So unsure of yourself
Leaning from you unsure window pane
Do I see a silhouette of somebody pointing
Something from a tree
Click bang
Oh what a hang your daddy just shot poor me
And I hear you say as I fade away

We don't have to wait till tomorrow
Hey
We don't have to wait till tomorrow
What you say
We don't have to wait till tomorrow

It must not have been right
So forever goodnight

We don't have to wait till tomorrow
Do I have to wait do I have to wait
We don't have to wait till tomorrow
It's a drag on my part
We don't have to wait till tomorrow
Don't have to wait don't have to wait
