

Jimmy Nail, I Wonder

Since you've been gone I've lived my life
In dreams of used to be
And I wonder if I'll ever love again? I don't know
I'm gonna lock my heart today
And throw away the key
And I wonder if I'll ever love again?

I wonder if I will ever love this way again
Walking a straight line through the sunshine and the rain
Makin' a vow and seein' it through
Doing the things that lovers do
I wonder if I will ever love this way again

I take your picture from my wall
And gently lay it down
Oh, and I wonder if I'll ever ease this pain, I don't know
Now as the rain begins to fall

And there's darkness all around
That's when I wonder if I'll ever love again

I wonder if I will ever love this way again
I can survive by staying alive every now and then
But that's not the way that I want it to be
I want it back the way it was with you and me
I wonder if I will ever love this way again

Instrumental solo

I wonder if I will ever love this way again
I'm willing to try but I don't know that I can stand
The hurt and the pain
But just as I am sure that there's a heaven above
I know there can be no life if there is no love
I wonder if I will ever love this way again
