Jo Dee Messina, Even God Must Get The Blues

(John Scott Sherrill/Dene Anton)

Pick up any morning paper Turn on the 6 o'clock news The devil's been so busy lately That even God must get the blues

A young man lies there in the street His life gone like it was nothin' to lose And for the shoes there on his feet Yes even God must get the blues

When the rain falls down from heaven, it must be the angels cryin' For all the sorrow in the world tonight

A young girl hides her face in shame So they can't see it's been battered and bruised Like she's the one to blame Yes even God must get the blues

Pick up any evening paper Turn on the 10 o'clock news The devil's been so busy lately That even God must get the blues

Yeah even God must get... The blues
