

Joan Armatrading, Can't Let Go

I've tried hard to escape
From this feeling of wanting you
But I know you as well
As I know myself

And as hard as you try
To deny that you care for me
You know I can read
What your lips won't say
Oh darling

We can't stay close
We can't let go
What are we supposed to do
Darling
What are we supposed to do

Can't stay close
Can't let go
What are we supposed to do
Darling

We may argue and fight
And the tears run wild
But it's where we belong
In each other's arms
Oh darling

Can't stay close
Can't let go
What are we supposed to do
Darling
What are we supposed to do
