

Joanna Kaczmarkiewicz, Fire in your heart

I just want you to hold up and feel Just leave me with your magic
There is nothing that could hold my tears
Just leave me something to remember

Just let me take you.... Let us disappear

I just want to know
Who start the fire in your heart
When I'm standing all alone
This world goes away...

I will show you quickly what it's like
My love is strong and still surrounds me
I gave my all, did my best for life
I want you to imagine

Just let me take you... Let us disappear

I just want to know
Who start the fire in your heart
When I'm standing all alone
You bring me this love!

I just want to know
Who start the fire in your heart
When I'm standing all alone
This world goes away...

On and on
we carry through the fears
On and on
You wake up with new dreams

I just want to know
Who start the fire in your heart
When I'm standing all alone
You bring me this love!

I just want to know
Who start the fire to your heart
When I'm standing all alone
This world goes away...
