

Joe Bonamassa, Different Shades Of Blue

Sun has been shined down on me
Day and night

..
Living the lucky live
All good things
Come to the end
You run like a train

Everybody knows that she broke your heart
Everybody knows that it tore you apart
You've been sailing own .. league

But it's not make you weak

When you've got nothing left to lose
It's not sound good
But I'm not sure is it true
... the pain around
And that's what sad and true
The Different Shades Of Blue
