

Joe Bonamassa, Mind's Eye

Help
I'm going down
I need someone to slow the spiral down

Help
These are trying times
And I shouldn't be calling on someone else's dime
Say, Say what you really mean
Don't mince words or hide intentions in between Listen
Better listen before you talk
I can't go back through there
After the door is locked

Reach up, dig deeper
You can't save the ones
Who can't save themselves
Our whole damn world comes crashing down around us
I know you've found someone else
So don't be so furious
Remember there's two sides
I'd be curious
If you'd keep a mind's eye

Wanted
A way to break through
When you're desperate and lonely
There's nothing you can do
I'm haunted
By memories you can't see
A place that's easy to get to
But hard as hell as to leave

Reach up, dig deeper
You can't save the ones
Who can't save themselves
Our whole damn world comes crashing down around us
I know you've found someone else
So don't be so furious
Remember there's two sides
I'd be curious
If you'd keep a mind's eye

Reach up, dig deeper
You can't save the ones
Who can't save themselves
Our whole damn world comes crashing down around us
I know you've found someone else
So don't be so furious
Remember there's two sides
I'd be curious
If you'd keep a mind's eye

Please help
I'm going down
I need someone to slow the spiral down