

Joe Dolan, Goodbye Venice goodbye

Goodbye my lovely friend
Your bridges sigh no more
I hope we'll meet again
I've lost you now for sure
Goodbye my lovely friend
I loved you from the start
I knew that it would end
But didn't have the heart
To see us part
Now I must go

So,

Goodbye Venice goodbye
I must leave you to die
Goodbye Venice goodbye
Goodbye my love
Goodbye Venice goodbye
I must leave you to die
Goodbye Venice goodbye
Goodbye my love
Reflections from the sea
Cast shadows in your hair
You came and sat by me
Beside Saint Marco square
You said you were alone
Love shining in your eyes
But Venice though it's stone
Beneath it all it dies
Oh, yes it dies
Just like our love

So,

Goodbye Venice goodbye
I must leave you to die
Goodbye Venice goodbye
Goodbye my love
Goodbye Venice goodbye
I must leave you to die
Goodbye Venice goodbye
Goodbye my love
