

Joe Ely, All You Are Love

It might not mean much, to you baby
But it means the world to me
Just a simple touch of your hand
Tells me what love can be
In moments like this, when you are near me and can see so far
What ever you say what ever you seem
I love you for all you are
All you see
All you feel
All you are
LOVE
Somewhere between your heart and mine
Windows open wide
They let the light in
With songs in the wind
That send me to your side
Whenever I find you, Im lost no longer
Wandering so far
Where ever I go what ever I do
I love you for all you are
All you see
All you feel
All you are
