

Joe Ely, Baby Do You Love Me Still?

Well the sun dont sink...it dont swim...it dont set
Is it androids or elephants that never forget?
Have the east and the west met yet?
Baby do you love me still?
I was born under blue skies in the land of the wind
Aint nothin ever happened that can happen again
Ive seen your savin grace and Ive seen your sin
Baby do you love me still?
Whats that look in your eye?
Whats that light on the hill?
Watcha starin at baby...do you love me still?
Its the same old mixture of the same old grind
When your one man band becomes a one man bind
Its a fine line between laughin and cryin
Baby do you love me still?
Up the high road to heaven...down the slow road to sleep
You just keep makin promises you cant seem to keep
I woke up on the airplane with tears on my cheek
Baby do you love me still?
Whats that look in your eye?
Whats that light on the hill?
Watcha starin at baby...do you love me still?
There was water in the well and fire from the first
Were ya burnin me out or were ya quenchin my thirst?
How could it go so fast from the best to the worst?
Baby do you love me still?
I was born under blue skies in the land of the wind
Aint nothin ever happened that can happen again
Youve seen my savin grace and youve seen my sin
Baby do you love me still?
