

Joe Perry Project, Shooting Star

(Joe Perry)

No one knows how much time has passed
That I've returned from space at last

A lot of wounds that hurt and bleed
The scars of which you'll never see

My brand new ship is stellar bound
To search out a place I've never found
Where I go only time will tell
There's a lot of space between
Heaven and Hell

Chorus:

A million miles away. I don't care what they say
I'll be with you, my love, so from my side don't stray
