

JoEveritt, Unless You Lose Your Feet

how long? so long, too long!
how long? too long, so long!

so you say you'd rather walk away from the issues at hand and to stay awake another day would be to live a damn sham so go back to sleep, another week until monsters/demons are biting so deep in your dreams, you feel like shit or thats so it seems

how long? so long, too long!

I'm not saying that ice should not fight but I know that it's wrong and to understand that what's truly night seems to take so damn long so go with your life and your lies you know you've always been eyeing the prize both day and night, holding you head low, eyes kept out of sight

how long? so long, too long!

you go back to sleep, another week
yet in your dreams you feel like everything you do is small but that's not true at all unless you lose your feet
