

John Denver, Homegrown Tomatoes

(Clark)

There ain't nothing in the world that I like better than bacon and lettuce and homegrown tomatoes.

Up in the morning, out in the garden, get you a ripe one, don't pick a hard one.

Plant 'em in the spring, eat 'em in the summer. All winter without 'em is a culinary bummer.

I forget all about the sweating and the digging every time I go out and pick me a big one.

Homegrown tomatoes, homegrown tomatoes, what would life be without homegrown tomatoes?

Only two things that money can't buy and that's true love and homegrown tomatoes.

You can go out to eat and that's for sure, but there's nothing a homegrown tomato won't cure.

Put 'em in a salad, put 'em in a stew, you can make your own, very own tomato juice.

You can eat 'em with eggs, eat 'em with gravy, You can eat 'em with beans, pinto or navy.

Put 'em on the side, put 'em in the middle, homegrown tomatoes on a hot cake griddle.

Homegrown tomatoes, homegrown tomatoes, what would life be without homegrown tomatoes?

Only two things that money can't buy and that's true love and homegrown tomatoes.

If I was to change this life I lead, you could call me Johnny Tomatoseed.

'Cause I know what this country needs is homegrown tomatoes in every yard you see.

When I die, don't bury me in a box in a cold dark cemetery.

Out in the garden would be much better 'cause I could be pushing up homegrown tomatoes.

Homegrown tomatoes, homegrown tomatoes, what would life be without homegrown tomatoes?

Only two things that money can't buy and that's true love and homegrown tomatoes, homegrown tomatoes, what would life be without homegrown tomatoes?

Only two things that money can't buy and that's true love and homegrown tomatoes.
