

John Frusciante, A Doubt

Everyone speaks at the same time
Everyone wonders "Who am I?"
It'd be sad to blow through time
We never go through the sky
We never know when to die

Lean in to walk
We dreamed of tonight
Lean in to walk
We dreamed of tonight
We dreamed of tonight

We all choose to live life
We confuse how with why
Everyday is lost as it goes by
These moments don't compete
And i wind up next to you
And all that i need is a doubt
That's all one that feeds the mouth
One simple means is to leave it by the door
Ah haa Ah haa
One time top lay is the time you play for
Ah haa Ah haa
And you never set a limit

Lean in to walk
Nothing missing from life
Lean in to walk
Nothing missing from life
Nothing missing from life
Oh
Lean in to walk
Nothing missing from life
Lean in to walk
We dreamed of tonight
We dreamed of tonight
And don't ever set a limit
