John Lennon, Bring On The Lucie (Freda Peeple)

We don't care what flag you're waving We don't even want to know your name We don't care where you're from or where you're going All we know is that you came You're making all our desicions We have just one request of you That while you're thinking things over Here's something you just better do

Free the people now Do it do it do it now

Well we were caught with our hands in the air Don't desapir paranoia is everywhere We can shake it with love when we're scared So let's shout it aloud like a prayer

We understand your paranoia But we don't want to play your game You think you're cool and know what you are doing 666 is your name So while you're jerking off each other You better bear this thought in mind Your time is up you better know it But maybe you don't read the signs

Well you were caught with your hands in the kill And you still got to swallow your pill As you slip and you slide down the hill On the blood of the people you killed

Stop the killing now Do it do it do it now Bring on the Lucie
