

John Mayall's Bluesbreakers, Ridin' On The L&n

Around the bend in the L&n
They loaded it down with a lot of men
The whistle blow and threw the switch
Nobody knew just-a which one switch
I&n ridin&n, ridin on the L&n
I ain&n;t
jivin&n;
, ridin&n; on the L&n
Well a man named Quin on the L&n
Runnin&n;
around on how she&n;s been
Train slowed down and the men jumped off
I wasn&n;t dead &n;cause I heard him callin&n;
I&n ridin&n, ridin&n; on the L&n
I ain&n;t jivin&n;, ridin&n; on the L&n
(alternate transcription for the 2nd verse:
Well a man named Glen got the L &n
Heading round all Harsh ? and then Train slowed down and Glen jumped out
He wasn&n;t dead cos I heard him shout)
A man named Mose with a great big nose
Sleepin&n; on that pile of toes
The doctor came and he rang the bell
The palla alla
get well, well, well
I&n ridin&n;, ridin&n; on the L&n
I ain&n;t jivin&n;, ridin&n; on the L&n
(alternate transcription for the 3rd verse:
Well a man named Mose with a greta big nose
He was sleeping on a pile of clothes
Conductor came and ran the bell
The porter hollered - well well well
(Spoken: Walter Trout on guitar!)
