John Mellencamp, Without Expression

Have you ever ridden horses through a rainstorm? Or a lion through a busy street bazarre? There are many things I'd love to turn you on to But somehow I feel they're safer where they are

Yes, there's a man I know With no expression He's got none at all Yes, there's a man that I know With no expression, darling He's got none at all

Well, some people are inbound with infatuation And some others spill depression as the law From one's mother getting at no imagination So beware then, maybe sin is at your door

Yes, there's a man that I know With no expression He's got none at all Yes, there's a man I know With no expression He's got none at all

But you may never, never
See this man laughing
Come to think of it,
I've never seen him cry
But he might be sitting
And you hear him singing
And by and by he'll stop and sigh
Before his voice would even begin to speak
And he'd just cry

Yes, There's a man I know With no expression, darling He's got none at all Yes, There's a man that I know With no expression He's got none at all

Have you ever, ever ridden horses through a rainstorm? Or a lion through a busy street bazarre? There are many things I'd love to turn you on to But somehow I feel they're safer where they are

Yes, There's a man that I know With no expression He's got none at all There's a man that I know With no expression He's got none at all
