

Jon McLaughlin, You Are The One I Love

I would never, ever let you go
All this fighting's really just a show
That we put on behind doors that Everyone knows aren't closed
All these eyes are watching in the dark
Put in black wholes in the stars
We used to think we are all down
Into the fellow part, right now they seem so far
But oh how long is the way you hold my heart?
But oh that shows is the way we fall apart to the world to the world I hate, you are the I love
They'll say what they'll say, they'll never say enough
But you are the one I love [repeat once]
There are couples, couples everywhere
Oh why, oh why does everyone care?
