

Jonatha Brooke, Mermaid

I know you'll do it
Do it for this
One day you'll think he's the one.
You'll follow him over oceans
He'll promise you the world
He will parade you around the seas
He'll murmur his affections, his devotion
He will convince you to leave the deep
He'll promise you the world
If you do it anyway,
Why would you do it for love
If you do it anyway,
Why would you do it for love
If you do it anyway,
Why would you do it for love
Do it for
Love
You will ride the ocean
Nobody's given you
You will ride the ocean
Nobody's given you
Your legs fell the first to needles and pins
And then your voice mmmm
You promised him you'd come back forever
He promised you the world
If you do it anyway,
Why would you do it for love
If you do it anyway,
Why would you do it for love
If you do it anyway,
Why would you do it for love
If you do it anyway,
Would you do it for love
Do it for
Love
