

Jonny Craig, I've Been Hearing That You're Freaky

Back and forth we always go, following the light,
Over these broken cobblestones I call my life,
Tell me, who's to blame? And how many of you feel ashamed,
To say you turned your back in style?

I can't wait, it's your body taking over me,
And I can't wait, it's your body taking over me.

How did she get in my head?

Movements that shake the earth,
Somehow it feels so perfect,
Surrounded by this madness,
It keeps floating around my head,
Inside, inside, inside, inside.

I can't wait, it's your body taking over me,
And I can't wait, she's taking over me.

I can't wait, it's your body taking over me,
I can't wait, it's your body taking over me.
