

Josh Kelley, Old Time Memory

Standin 'round in a crowded room your face is here bring me back to you leaving town slips into my head again my friends say stay but i wanna go theres people here that i used to know to the situation that you put me in and i can tell myself that i will be gone you can rest assure that i will be home cause' i belong to the best of you and you belong to the things i do well this song is how i'll remember you cause' i can tell you what its like to be gone when you're an old time memory

laying back with the headphones on a pen in hand takes me to the dawn paper worn to the thoughts of you again taking light of the time of night a ballpoint fast full of working mind chorus playin' in my head again cause' i can tell myself that i will be gone but you can rest assure that i will be home

cause' i can tell you what its like to be gone

with the feelings that remain and the promises in vain and the memories are stained for you, for you

and you can rest assure that i will be home

cause' i can tell you what its like to be gone
cause' i can tell you what its like to be gone
