

Josh Kelley, Solid Ground

Thinking back to better days and the wrongs and right have faded grey
If I told you once you told me twice
How the love of both can turn the lies
It's so easy to turn my head around
But now I've beat the odds
Got my feet on solid ground

It's so hard just movin' on
And being without you just seems so wrong
But time only heals our wounds
For me it takes time for you so soon
It's so easy to turn my head around
But now I've beat the odds
Got my feet on solid ground

Falling further from where we used to be
All things said and done
I needed to be free
It's so easy to turn my head and run
But now I've beat the odds
I'm back on solid ground

(Guitar Break)

I'm better now without you hear
I've got a job and my mind is clear
From what I hear you want me back
But tide has turned and I'm relaxed
It's so easy to turn my head around
But now I've beat the odds
I'm back on solid ground

Falling further from where we used to be
All things said and done
I needed to be free
It's so easy to turn my head and run
But now I've beat the odds
My feet on solid ground

It's so easy to turn my head and run
(I'm landing on solid ground)
It's so easy to turn my head and run
(I'm landing on solid ground)
It's so easy to turn my head and run
(I'm landing on solid ground)
It's so easy to turn my head and run
(I'm landing on solid ground)
