

Josh Rouse, Knights Of Loneliness

I'm a man of wants and needs
If you got something, I will share it
You don't see the things I see
When it comes to love and carin'
In a queen size bed
There were things been said
I never thought you'd be
The first one to leave

Knights of loneliness
Where have you gone, there's nowhere safe
Knights of loneliness
Now that you upped and ran away

Inside the city you cannot be found
You left the country girl and that's apparent
In the alleys I can hear your sound
It echoes low where I can hear it
Then the sky turns red
And I'm walking dead
Through the aching trees
I hear your reprise

Knights of loneliness
Where have you gone, there's nowhere safe
Knights of loneliness
Where could you be, there is no trace
Miles from me now
It's all a blur, there is no face
Knights of loneliness
Now that you've upped and ran away
You upped and ran away
You upped and ran away
You upped and ran away

Then the sky turns red
And I'm walking dead
Through the aching trees
I hear your reprise

Knights of loneliness
Where have you gone, there's nowhere safe
Knights of loneliness
Where could you be, there is no trace
Miles from me now
It's all a blur, there is no space
Knights of loneliness
Now that you've upped and ran away
Knights of loneliness
Knights of loneliness
Knights of loneliness
Knights of loneliness

Now that you've upped
Now that you've upped
Now that you've upped and ran away
You upped and ran away
You upped and ran away
