

Journey, You're On Your Own

Well try and make up your mind
Well try to make up your mind
Well try to make up your mind
Well try to make up your mind, yeah

Now you're on you're own, yeah yeah baby
Now you're on you're own, yeah

There's a new moon rising on the other side
The other side of you
Talk to yourself and someone else
What you tryin' to do
You maybe will, you maybe won't
It's all for you to say
You say you do, and then you don't
It's only you in the way, yeah yeah yeah

Baby, now you're on you're own, yeah yeah yeah baby
Hey, now you're on you're own, yeah

When the light is gone that left your eyes
I haven't spoke too soon
And now we know your pretty words
Is just another tune
You spoke your mind, you've been quite kind
It's all according to you
Well go inside, keep your pride
I can't get through to you, no no

Now you're on you're own
Now you're on you're own

Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind
Well try and make up your mind