

Judas Priest, Metal gods

We've taken too much for granted And all the time it had grown From techno seeds we first planted