

Judy Garland, Then You've Never Been Blue

If you never had to count
A million cheap,
Then you've never been blue,
never been blue.
If you've never had to cry
Yourself to sleep,
Then you've never been blue,
never been blue.
I know I could go on laughing at trouble,
Plain trouble,
But when it concerns my heart
The pain seems double.
Oh, no one ever knows what I go through,
While someone at home is babying you.
If you never had to miss a good night kiss,
Then you've never, no, you've never been blue.
