

Julia Fordham, Goodbye I Love You

written by Julia Fordham

Goodbye I love you
Don't forget to take
Your list of reasons
And the heart I did not break
Let alone split open Let alone live in
Perhaps a deep blue bruise will mark
The place where I have been

And the sun will still rise
Tomorrow so will I
And I'll wave as I say
Goodbye I love you baby
goodbye I love you baby

Good luck I missed you
Before you'd even gone
The voice of wisdom
Saw to it I was forewarned
That the hands of fate that guided
You here to my side
Would pull you back and onwards
No matter how I tried

And the sun will still rise
Tomorrow so will I
And I'll wave as I say
Goodbye I love you baby
goodbye I love you baby

As I lay these future dreams to rest I bury hem with seeds of hope for happiness

Goodbye I love you
Don't forget to take
Your list of reasons
And the heart I did not break
