

Julia Fordham, Invisible War

Invisible war it seems we're waging an invisible war
Strained maneuvers keeping silent score in this Invisible war, everyday I seem to lose you more
Both wishing that it was like before in this invisible war

Talk about a fine line between love and hate
We've lost more than our direction of late
Talk about a fine line between lovers and friends
We've never been lovers now we're not even friends

In this invisible war, it seems we're waging an invisible war
Everyday I seem to lose you more in this invisible war

Wounded deeply the scar is here to stay
Opening up the little things I do or say
You always want things to be as before
So I make you angry and you bleed a little more

In this invisible war, it seems we're waging an invisible war
Strained maneuvers keeping silent score in this invisible war

I wanna run away, and I still love you
I've got to be away, and I'll always love you
I've got to find a way...time heals all wounds
Invisible war.
