

Julia Fordham, Scare Me

don't scare me, don't scare me with talk of forever and always, just stay don't scare me, don't scare me with words like i love you, they haunt me some days nobody knows better than me that love is a fickle friend who can give you up, give you up, give you up without whisper or warning give you up, give you up, give you up and it scares me, scares me don't tell me, don't tell me that you'll take care of me forever and always don't tempt me, don't tempt me to trust you, oh how I long to some days nobody knows better than me

and i would be the first to say the best-laid plans can fail i guess it's just like anything where only time can tell scare me
nobody knows better than me
