

Julia Michaels, Heaven

love's my religion
but he was my faith something so scared so hard to replace falling for him was like falling from grace all wrapped in one de was so many sins would have done anything and if you ask me
I would do it again

no need to imagine
cause I know it's true
they say all boys go to heaven but bad boys bring heaven to you it's automatic
it's just what het do

you don't realize the power they have until they leave you and you want them back nothing in this world prepares you for that I'm not a sinner he wasn't the one had no idea what we would become there's no regrets
I just thought it was fun

it's automatic

I still remember the moment we met the touch that he planed the garden he left I guess the rain was just half that effect

it's automatic
