

Juliana Theory, Congratulations

You kiss your life goodbye
Like lovers in the night
Returning home alone
As if you suffered a heart attack
And under the weight of the world
That nearly broke your back
It was written on your face
I could see it in your face

Congratulations
Today is another day
It's coming crashing down to break you again
Congratulations
You can change
Sometimes when lying on your back
You learn to breathe again

Black out your bitterness
Forget your jaded bliss
Your shadow falls on me
You blame it all on a mutiny
When everybody around you always seems so free
I can see it in your eyes
It's burning in your eyes

Congratulations
Today is another day
It's coming crashing down to break you again
Congratulations
You can change
Sometimes when lying on your back
You learn to breathe again

Congratulations
You have another day
It's coming crashing down to break you again
Congratulations
You can change
Sometimes when lying on your back
