

Julie Brown, Time Slips Away

Everybody's searching to find who they should be
Stumbling closely behind their destiny
Counting on a dream they hope to own someday
Yeah
Standing like a child in a revolving door
Never satisfied, always wanting more
If we'd just open our eyes to what we have
Oh

In a world that's moving fast
Passing us by
There's so much for us to grasp
And you wonder why
Why

Time slips away
Come on out of the shadows
Live for today
Don't just wait for tomorrow
A wind of change will blow
And it's gone before you know
Time slips away

Rushing through with fear, we never stop to feel
Driven to somewhere, we're blind behind the wheel
If we'd only slow down and trust our fate
Yeah

In a world that's moving fast
Passing us by
There's so much for us to grasp
And you wonder why
Why

Time slips away
Come on out of the shadows
Live for today
Don't just wait for tomorrow
A wind of change will blow
And it's gone before you know
Time slips away

Once, once you believe
In every moment there is treasure
You'll make it last forever

In a world that's moving fast
Passing us by
There's so much for us to grasp
And you wonder why
Why

Time slips away
Come on out of the shadows
Live for today
Time slips away
Hey, yeah, yeah
Hey

Come on out of the shadows
Live for today

Time slips away
Hey, hey, yeah
Hey

Come on out of the shadows
Live for today
Time slips away.
