

Julie C, Tomorrow

All the noise up in my head about what I should've done instead
Turning shades of grey to black & white
All the time reminding me about all the things that I could be
If only I could play my cards right
If I could just slow down a moment and stop living my life two steps ahead
And Mama said

Just let tomorrow come tomorrow
If you take your time today
Tomorrow will be ok.
Just let tomorrow come tomorrow
If you just stay here tonight
Tomorrow will be tomorrow will be alright

All my thoughts are torn to shreds by your big ideas bold and red
I'm chasing stars they say are out of reach
They keep breathing down my neck and now I'm thinking things that can't be said
Just keep breathing you're not crazy
If I could just slow down a moment and stop living my life two steps ahead
And Mama said

Just let tomorrow come tomorrow
If you take your time today
Tomorrow will be ok.
Just let tomorrow come tomorrow
If you just stay here tonight
Tomorrow will be tomorrow will be alright

If I could find a summer day where I could live in all my life
It wouldn't be so complicated
There would be no surprises
If only I could find a way to have a little peace of mind and take one step at a time...
Sometimes you gotta

Just let tomorrow come tomorrow
If you take your time today
Tomorrow will be ok.
Just let tomorrow come tomorrow
If you just stay here tonight
Tomorrow will be tomorrow will be alright

Tomorrow will be alright / 3x
I promise it will be alright