

July For Kings, Anything But Beautiful

Awaken to a world devoid of hope and faith I don't want to look anymore I turn it off but it won't go away. the pain of a high school end the rest in a young suicide the media drawing in an escape from a young girl's life from a young girl's life.
And we're falling further every day now our tallest towers sway
I 'm holding on in this world of decay and I've realized that this is anything but beautiful
anything but beautiful
this is anything but beautiful
anything but beautiful.

Awaken to a day the fear in the eyes of a boy the cold of a hospital stay where a child is a cancer's toy and if the angel for the lord is the angel with the sword I don't believe that anymore I just don't believe that still holding on for a chance to be strong

Falling further every day
now our tallest towers sway
I 'm holding on in this world of decay
and I've realized
this is anything but beautiful
anything but beautiful
this is anything but beautiful
anything but beautiful.

Somebody hold my eyes closed somebody make the snow and the rain one step from the fall don't you know looking for heaven but the light never came somebody keep my head turned give me a soul for a piece of the wire I came for a god but it all burned down in the fire

Falling further everyday
now our deepest oceans dry we're holding on in this world of decay
I've realized
open your eyes
this is anything but beautiful
this is anything but beautiful
anything but beautiful
a world anything but beautiful anything but
anything but
anything but beautiful
anything but
anything but beautiful
anything but
anything but beautiful
anything but beautiful