

July For Kings, I'll Go

If I see the door
waiting for me to say
if it's open, I'll go
if it's open, I'll go

From here to there
another day with no sleep
it's more pain and fear comfort that it won't keep to love, to love
if just to get me through this season where the leaves fall for good?
back to New York city Urgency at all

To nothingness
a temporary something
to loneliness
won't you sit beside me
to emptiness
let's rapair together now get the hell away from this town

will the eyes dare to see
through today
if it's life then I'll know
why the outside would ask
for me to say
if it's open, I'll go

These walls, these words still holding me down, down the faith, the strength, the sun its all a little broken up i've been sitting by my dreams and plans oh for such a long time I'm still sitting by the water just waiting for someone to shove me to shove me in

to lonlienss
through emptiness
let's repair together now
we can fly away somehow

Yeah

Nobody knows
the weight of the shore
if it's open I'll see
what's hiding from me
behind the door

Sitting with these folded hands for such a long time
still sitting by the water just waiting for god to shove me in just shove me in

And if I see the door
where the eyes dare to see
it's life and I know
go, go, go
