

Jump Little Children, Midnight

In here it's always midnight
In here it's always warm
In here there's always a shadow cast
By these florescent lights.

In here forever is a dying man
In here forever is enough
In here forever is a space between
Your every breath, midnight.

Never dark enough
To hide us from tomorrow
Never dark enough
To keep us in its shadow
In here midnight
It's always.

In here I still here your whisper
In here I hear your fragile voice
In here I hear your laughter floating down
Like paper rain, midnight.

Never dark enough
To hide us from tomorrow
Never dark enough
To keep us in its shadow
In here midnight.

Midnight.

Never dark enough
To hide us from tomorrow
Never dark enough
To keep us in its shadow
In here its always
Midnight.
