Jump Little Children, Not Today

I'm sure someone would hear me if I screamed But not today I'm sure someone would notice if I seemed Out of touch Or way behind But not today

I don't mind being onely once in a while But not today I'm sure someone would hear me across the miles If I'm out of touch Or way behind But not today

Not today On any other day But not today Everyone's miles away

I've never really been that hard to find But not today I'm sure that I could keep it off my mind If I'm out of touch Or way behind But not today

Not today On any other day But not today Everyone's miles away

Hey hey On anyother day
